The piece is just of that character which suits the east side playgoers, being sensational in the fullest sense of the term. Mr. Albaugh as Eustache, appeared to great advantage, and was rewarded by the demonstrative appreciation of his audience. The character is decidedity a trying one, requiring in its portrayal great versating and no inconsiderable amount of business. Mr. Albaugh was evidently at home in his character. Miss Mary Mitchell as Louise was really exceptent, portraying the varied cardions called out "y the character with great force and naturalne set the applause of the house. Both were called by fore the curtain twice during the performance of the drama. "Eustache" was followed by the periodic drama of "The Hungarian Chiet," in which it a members of the stock company appeared. They beform ances were in every sense excellent, and Mrs. Albaugh will, we doubt not, prove very profit a succession of reverses, not to say as ries of managerial "ups and downs," this establist ment.

THEATRE COMIQUE.-Within this neat and cosey theatre a large and select assemblage was as usual gathered last evening. It is no wonder there are crowded houses here every night. The bill of at-tractions is the grand secret of the brilliant success. The is no end hardly to the variety of the pieces presented, and all of the best character and the company fittingly adapted for their faithful delineation pany fittingly adapted for their faithful delineation. Last evening's programme opened with that thrillingly exciting drama, "A Lie's Revenge: or, Two Lovers for One Heart," which has not been performed in this city for several years. Never nas the play been better produced or better mounted. The whole strength of the magnificent company was in the cast. Mr. G. C. Boniface, as Fournichet, was graudly and powerfully dramatic. The dignified neroism of tunultuous passion showed itself in all is acting, affecting the audience at each successive stirring scene with visible emotion. Mr. D. Rawitton, as the Marquis St. Ganfrey, in delineating revenge, the ruling passion of his soul, was incomparably fine. As Simon Tiralos Mr. H. Holt was indestributed in the protesting up with jubilant gleams venge, the ruing passion of his soul, was incomparably fine. As Simon Traice Mr. H. Holt was Indescribably grotesque, lighting up with jubilant cleams of delicate humor the dark and tragic passions of the drama. Miss Lazie Wilmore as Barbette formed a pleasing counterpart of mirth, and both in her acting and singing was happy, as she always is. As Eioise de Montiort Miss Lithe Eldridge played with admirable skill and effect. All the parts were admirably played. Its perfect success was shown in the demonstrations of layor with which it was received, and, at the close, calling Mr. Boniface before the curtain. After a Pas de Fascination by Mile. Diana and Sig. Tito Ceiling the evening's programme concluded with that pleasing and popular comedicta "Good for Nothing," in which Nan, the good for nothing, was personated by Milss Wilmore. All the quirks and oddities of her comic tailent were here personated in perfection, Harry Holt, as Tom Friboes, gave the climax of perfection in the heect. The same bill will be continued through the weeks used, Mr. Braham, the Musical Director, Interspersed the performances with selections from the choicest music. The beautiful drama, "Blow for Bjow," is soon to be produced. Messr, white & Spencer are on the right track to continuous success in the varied bill of entertainments they lay before their patrons and the excellent company they have.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS.—These popular favorites reopened their cosey hall last evening and were greeted by an immense audience, which crowded the place almost to suffication. The programme was a very entertaining one and Billy Eirch and his joily compeers, Wambold, Bernard and Backus, was a very entertaining one and Billy Eirch and his joily compeers. Wambold, Bernard and Backus, managed, as usual, to keep the house in a roar all the evening. Backus had a "fresh" song, entitled "Homeward Bound." which told all about a great many things that nobody who doesn't travel knows any thing about. Wambold sang his new piece, "The Daisy Valley." In his usually excellent style, and Billy Birch's "Gay Young Glerk in a Dry Goods Store" as a matter of course, made the andlence semie very loudly. "The First Rehearsai," a "Trip to Paris" and the "Court Scene at Jefferson Market" were heartly enjoyed. Bobby Newcomb was also on hand, and Mrs. Jinks, who is supposed to be adistant relative of the renowned "Capting" of the same name, was introduced to the andlence, who seemed to be well pleased with the eccentricities of the lady. In fact, the reopening night was all that could have been desired and gives promise of a successful season and plenty of flithy lucre as a profitable consequence for the managers. The hall, it may be menuoned, has been entirely renovated and painted and presents a most inviting appearance. The stage especially has been greatly changed. The duil old scenery has been set aside and an exceedingly pretty back scene has taken its place, the Drincipal figure being a goddess of iberty, with the American mag furied to the breeze.

There is something of soul, expression, real feeling and faultless execution about his rendering of the myriad morecanz, which he has played this season which we looked for in vain in Koenig. There is one of the best of the gifted composer's works. Another feature on the programme last night was the deshing galop "L'Oeil Crève" orchestrated by a journalite of this city. very large and highly amused audience assembled at Hooley's minstrel entertainment last evening. The bill for the present week—an excellent one—was introduced under the most auspicious circumstances, and the star company of cork-dyed delineators received a very flattering reception. Dick Raiph, in his inimitable and outlandish light fantastic pedal agitations, with appropriate songs, was acceptable to a supertative degree to the "Congressmen in the gallery"—as Raiph incetionsly termed the occupants of that part of the house. An admirable burlesque, "The Seedy Musicians," in which Billy Rice, Fayette Welch and Cool White took part, was fanny in the extreme. The "Hungry Jake" of Fayette, whose woebegone cry of "Strike him for something to eat, why don't you?" literally brought down the house, is a gem of absurdity, well calculated to "artive duit care away." The clog dancing of Measrs. Cooper and Flelds was very fine, while the tenor singer. Charles Henry, and others of the troupe each came in for their share of applause. The bill for the present week-an excellent one-

Miss Jennie Landsman, the favorite contraito, who is at present in Paris, resting from her recent operatic labors in Turin and Milan, contemplates returning to this city in about two weeks. She comes here for the sole purpose of visiting her relatives, and will return to Europe early in the spring. So decided was her success in Turin and Milan last year that Mr. Maurice Strakosch endeavored, by the offer of a liberal salary, to entrap her into a four years' engagement, which, however, has not yet been accepted.

Herr Wagner's "Meistersinger" is definitely accepted for the Berlin Opera, and will be brought out at the end of October. As a set off against this triumph a parody of the same opera is having great success at Mayence. The piece is called "Les Maitres Chanteurs, on le Judaisme en Musique," and its chief characters are Richard Demence. Félix Mendel*"boum, Meyerbach and Offenbeer. Judging by these names its satire must be heavy but the Mayence folk are said to laugh as it with sugular heartiness. Of course Herr Wagner attributes all to the Jewish conspiracy.

The English grand opera season commences at the Théatre Français on the lith of September, under the direction of Mme, Parepa-Rosa. The season is limited to fifteen nights and three matiness, at the conclusion of which the troape go to Philadelphia, where they open on the 4th of October, after which they go to Chicago and other Western cities, returning to New York about Christmas, when we are to be regaled with an extra season of three weeks. The opening sensation will be Baife's grand romantic opera of "The Puritan's Daugnter," which will be given upon this occasion for the first time in America. Link will be given upon this occasi

"The Black Diamond," "The Marriage of Figaro," besides a number of well known standard English opens.

We learn by telegram that Carlotta Patt, Theodore Ritter and Max Strakosch left Havre on Saturday by the steamer St. Laurent, for New York. The Patti concerts will commence on or about the 20th of September at Steinway Hail.

From announcements made in the Italian papers, it seems that the shocking occurrence which was recently brought to light in the Carmente convent at Cracow, has aiready been dramatised for two of the Florentine theatres. It is also said to be in preparation at a third. At the Prince Humbert theatre in Florence, one of the pieces founded on this subject was to be produced for the first time about two weeks ago, under the title of "La Monaca di Cracovia ovvero Venti Anni murata in una cella."

Victorien Sardou's superb play of "Patrie" will be revived early in September at the Grand Opera House. The dimenti part of Dolores will be entrusted to Miss Lucilie Western, who will have a fair opportunity to exhibit in it all the passion and power for which she has so lately received so much well-deserved applause. Mr. Bangs will again personate Aiva with portrait-like fidelity. Mr. Tilton will appear as Rysoov. No one has yet been assigned, we believe, to the part of Karloo, which it will appear as Rysoov. No one has yet been as-signed, we believe, to the part of Karloo, which it will be of the first importance to have strongly cast. "Patrie" will be brought out without additions or interpolations as it came from the pen of Victorien Sardou after five years of elaboration, and as it has been faithfully translated by Mr. Denile.

The umpiring of Mr. Thorne was very good. One decision given by him elicited hearty applause. The bail had been hit fell of the scorers' table, bounded very high and was caught by Higham. The catch was a fine one and was loudly cheered for, but Mr. Thorne, as the crowd prevented him seeing it, decided the striker "not out." A WILD BOY IN IGWA.—Considerable excitement exists in East Davenport and Gilbert Town, in consequence of a wild boy who has been seen by several veracious indiviousis prowing about the woods at the back of Judge Grant's farm and on the river's bank and islands. About a week ago a man returning from a shooting excursion saw what he at first took for some wild animal crouching by the bank of the river. It suddenly plunged in and emerged with a fish, which it devoured ravenously. Getting closer to it he saw that it was a boy, apparently about fitten or sixteen, entirely without clothes, and covered with light sandy hair of a sliky appearance. He plainly saw the face, and describes it as revoltingly ugly and brutal in its aspect. He attempted to approach it, but the creature became alarmed, and taking to the water, swam to a neighboring island and nid in the sedges. On returning home he gave information and a close lookout has been kept. The creature, whatever it may be, has been seen twice since, and this wild boy of the woods will doubtless be shortly captured.
